ARTIST PROFILE

Bachot Muna is a pianist, composer, singer, songwriter and arranger whose musical identity brings together jazz, blues, swing, groove and African influences. His work is driven by melody, rhythmic energy and a direct relationship with the audience - music designed to be both expressive and alive.

Over the course of an international career, Bachot has performed in festivals, theatres, hotels and prestigious events in Europe, Africa and North America. His stage experience includes the Montreal International Jazz Festival at Theatre Maisonneuve, alongside a long history of concerts and high-profile performances.

JAZZ & DREAMS

Jazz & Dreams is Bachot Muna's signature artistic universe: a personal approach to jazz in which swing and blues meet expressive improvisation, lyrical piano writing and African character. Rather than treating jazz as a fixed style, the project uses it as a language - open, emotional and full of rhythm and energy.

The repertoire includes original compositions such as Groovy Blues, Globe Trotter Blues and I'm Gonna Rock Your Night, alongside music from the wider world of Jazz & Dreams. Across the music, the piano remains central: sometimes elegant and intimate, sometimes percussive, driving and celebratory.

FOR PROGRAMMERS & VENUES

Jazz & Dreams is conceived for concert halls, jazz festivals, cultural centres, theatres, luxury hospitality settings and selected private or corporate events seeking an artist-led musical experience with a strong identity.

PRESS REVIEWS

RICHARD THERIEN

Canadian music critic Richard Therien heard something distinctive in Bachot Muna's playing. On Groovy Blues, the hypnotic bass line caught his ear and reminded him of the playing of pianist Mal Waldron. On I'm Gonna Rock Your Night, he identified another side of Bachot's piano language: stride, ragtime and boogie-woogie in the left hand, with a blues-inflected right hand.

"A voice of his own."

DIONIZY PIATKOWSKI

Polish jazz critic, historian and Era Jazzu founder Dionizy Piatkowski described Jazz & Dreams as a project in which Bachot Muna reaches for jazz feeling and expressive improvisation while retaining traditional and ethnic inspiration. His review highlights the swing, blues and jazz-piano character of the album and points to tracks including Globe Trotter Blues, Madness Swing, Groovy Blues and Zapping Swing.

For Piatkowski, Jazz & Dreams opens interesting new horizons for Bachot Muna as a pianist and composer.
